Important Please Read

Your COVID-19 test result shows the virus was not detected.

If you have been told to self-isolate due to travel or exposure to COVID-19 , then you are required to self-isolate for the full 14 days from the last exposure date AND until your symptoms have been resolved for 24 hrs, even with a negative result. This means that you may need to isolate for longer than 14 days.

It is important to understand that you can develop COVID-19 up to 14 days after your exposure.

If you have had no known exposure to COVID-19 and were tested due to symptoms, then you need to self-isolate until your symptoms have resolved for at least 24 hrs.

If you have had no known exposure to COVID-19 and are asymptomatic, but were offered asymptomatic surveillance testing for COVID-19 to better understand how COVID-19 is spreading in Manitoba, you do not need to self-isolate. However, please remember that the negative test result only applies to the time your swab was taken. If you develop symptoms of COVID-19, you need to be re-tested.

Please see the self-isolation fact sheet for further information:
